

Bulletin

The Maine Bureau of Health and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) continue to be on a heightened alert status to monitor for any unusual disease patterns associated with the events of September 11, 2001, including chemical and biological agents. To date, no such events have been reported to either agency and we remain hopeful that there will be no further catastrophes.

However, we continue to recommend that you maintain heightened surveillance for any unusual disease occurrence or increased numbers of illnesses that might be associated with the events of September 11.

If you become aware of any disease occurrences that may signal a potential biological or chemical event, please contact our 24 hour emergency reporting line at 1-800-821-5821.
